

NOW THIS WAR HAS TWO SIDES

Derrick Jensen

Where will you choose to make your stand? Give me a threshold, a specific point at which you'll finally stop running. At which you'll finally fight back. Stand with me. Stand and fight. I am one, and we would be two. Two more might join and we would be four. When four more join we will be eight. We will be eight people fighting whom others will join. And then more people. And more. Stand and fight. —From the CD

Examining the premises of his latest controversial work, Endgame as well as core elements of his ground breaking book Culture of Make Believe, this two hour lecture and discussion offers both a perfect introduction for newcomers and additional insight for those already familiar with Jensen's work.

Whether exposing the ravages of industrial civilization, relaying humorous anecdotes from his life, or bravely presenting a few of the endless forms that resistance can (and must) take, Jensen leaves his audience both engaged and enraged.

ABOUT THE AUTHOR

Author, teacher, activist, and leading voice of uncompromising dissent, Derrick Jensen regularly stirs auditoriums across the country with revolutionary spirit. His latest book, How Shall I Live My Life?: On Liberating the Earth from Civilization (PM Press), is a collection of interviews with ten activists who have devoted their lives to undermining the destructive dominant culture.

ACCOLADES

"Derrick Jensen is a rare and original voice of sanity in a chaotic world. He has wisdom and wit, grace and style, and is a wonderful guide to a good life beautifully lived."

—Howard Zinn, author of A People's History of the United States

"Derrick Jensen is a public intellectual who both breaks and mends the reader's heart."

—Frances Moore Lappe, author of Diet For A Small Planet

"Derrick Jensen is a man driven to stare without flinching at the baleful design of our culture... His analysis of our culture's predilection for hatred and destruction will rattle your bones."

—Daniel Quinn, author of Ishmael
